- June 2
- Beach Music
- By: Pat Conroy

The author of The Prince of Tides delivers a new novel of sweeping, lyrical intensity. Jack McCall, living in Rome with his daughter in hopes of finding peace after the suicide of his wife, is surprised by a visit from his sister-in-law. She draws him into a search for the one haunting secret in his family's past that can heal his anguished heart.

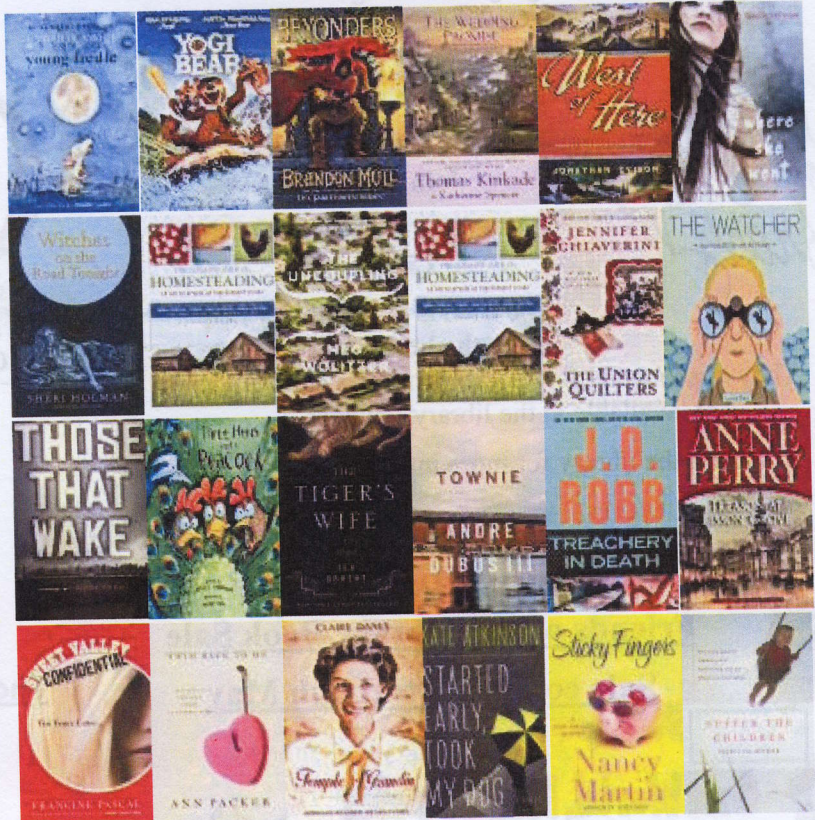

- July 7
- The Glass Castle: A memoir
- By: Jeanette Walls

Perennial Exchange

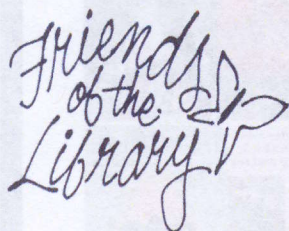

Ends May 31st

Is your perennial flowerbed getting too crowded?

Divide your plants and bring the extras to the library for the perennial

Exchange. Take home a new plant to add to your gardens. The plants will be in the vestibule of the Osgood Library. Please bring plants in some kind of container and identify the plant you are bringing to exchange.

For more info. call the Osgood Library: 689-4011

Want to make a difference @ your Library?

Join the Friends.

What do the Friends of the Library do?

The friends of the library help to make the library a nicer place to visit. They raise money for special programs and equipment not available in the library's budget.

Call the library for more information!

Gently used books are graciously accepted.

Please contact the library to arrange a donation.

Friends of the Library Book Sale

Sale continues through May

Summer reading is a great way to help preschoolers learn early literacy skills, school age children and teens avoid the "summer slide" and for adults to model the joy of reading to their children.

Summer Reading Program starts June 4th!

Plan to sign up and be looking for more info!
